

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for spatially modulating radiation includes directing at least one radiation beam upon at least one surface acoustic wave diffractive element, and driving at least one of the surface acoustic diffractive elements with a plurality of modulating signals to generate a plurality of modulated output radiation beams having parameters.